PUBLIC LIABILITY CLAIMS

Twelve claims of this nature were considered and acted upon by The Committee on Accident Compensation. Two were disposed of by settlement, one was denied, and in two no claims were presented. Seven others were considered but definite decisions were deferred pending further developments in each case, at a total cost to the University of $7093.85.

In acting upon such claims The Committee on Accident Compensation is necessarily governed by the applicable principles of Illinois Law under which the University is not liable to the claimants unless their injuries were proximately caused by negligence upon the part of the University or one of its agents or employees, and unless, even if the University was negligent in the premises, the claimant was free from negligence on his part which contributed to his injuries.

PUBLIC LIABILITY CLAIMS

Sixteen claims of this nature were considered and acted upon by The Committee on Accident Compensation. Seven were disposed of by paying the medical expenses, four claims were denied, and in one claim, the only expense was for photographs. Four others were investigated and considered but definite decisions were deferred pending further developments in each case, at a total cost to the University of $6817.67.

In acting upon such claims The Committee on Accident Compensation is necessarily governed by the applicable principles of Illinois Law under which the University is not liable to the claimants unless their injuries were proximately caused by negligence upon the part of the University or one of its agents or employees, and unless, even if the University was negligent in the premises, the claimant was free from negligence on his part which contributed to his injuries.

PUBLIC LIABILITY CLAIMS

Twelve claims of this nature were considered and acted upon by The Committee on Accident Compensation. Eight were disposed of by settlement at a cost to the University of $31,455.45. Four others were considered but definite decisions were deferred pending further developments in each case.

In acting upon such claims The Committee on Accident Compensation is necessarily governed by the applicable principles of Illinois Law under which the University is not liable to the claimants unless their injuries were proximately caused by negligence upon the part of the University or one of its agents or employees, and unless, even if the University was negligent in the premises, the claimant was free from negligence on his part which contributed to his injuries.

PUBLIC LIABILITY CLAIMS

Ten claims of this nature were considered and acted upon by The Committee on Accident Compensation. Six of these were disposed of by settlement primarily on basis of unpaid medical and property damage at a cost to the University of $1,995.45. Four others were considered but definite decisions were deferred pending further developments in each case.

In acting upon such claims The Committee on Accident Compensation is necessarily governed by the applicable principles of Illinois law under which the University is not liable to the claimants unless their injuries were proximately caused by negligence upon the part of the University or one of its agents or employees, and unless, even if the University was negligent in the premises, the claimant was free from negligence on his part which contributed to his injuries.

PUBLIC LIABILITY CLAIMS

Thirteen claims of this nature were considered and acted upon by The Committee on Accident Compensation. Four of these were disposed of by settlement primarily on basis of unpaid medical at a cost to the University of $1,074.90. Nine cases were considered but definite decisions were deferred pending further developments in each case.

In acting upon such claims The Committee on Accident Compensation is necessarily governed by the applicable principles of Illinois law under which the University is not liable to the claimants unless their injuries were proximately caused by negligence upon the part of the University or one of its agents or employees, and unless, even if the University was negligent in the premises, the claimant was free from negligence on his part which contributed to his injuries.
